

Park City Cares Foundation Supports Food Assistance for Local Children

MERRILL & MINOCQUA, WISC. – The Park City Cares Foundation, dedicated to strengthening communities, recently extended its support to two local hunger relief initiatives: Food for Kids Merrill and Northwoods Food for Kidz in Minocqua. The Foundation contributed $500 to each organization to help combat food insecurity among local youth and provided volunteers to assist with each program's essential meal-packing events.

In Merrill, Park City Cares Foundation volunteers assisted Food for Kids Merrill by packing backpacks filled with food for children facing hunger when school meals aren't available. Foundation representatives Trish Collins and Jolene Draxler were on-site to present the $500 donation to Terra Holdridge from Food for Kids Merrill.

In Minocqua, six Park City Cares Foundation volunteers joined a large meal-packing event hosted by Northwoods Food for Kidz, which brought together a total of 567 community members. The event produced an impressive 271,020 meals, packaged into 847 cases, for 19 local food pantries and backpack programs serving families across the region.
